COMMUNICATIONS FROM CITY AND OTHER OFFICIALS

TO: Honorable Mayor and City Council
FROM: Department of Legal Affairs
DATE: April 20, 2010

RE: Incompatible Public Office Act

Dear Mayor and City Council:

I have been asked to respond to the communication from Michael Sexton concerning application of the Incompatible Public Offices Act to Mayor Peterson's status as an independent contractor in the probation department with the 27th District Court pursuant to a letter issued by the Deputy Attorney General concerning the City of Inkster. The Incompatible Public Office Act in its stated purpose indicates it is an act to encourage the faithful performance of official duties by certain public officers and public employees.

A "public officer" is defined in this law in part as a person who is elected or appointed to a public office of a city in this state. A "public employee" is defined in the law as an employee of this state, an employee of a city, township or county of this state, or an employee of a department, board, agency, institution, commission, authority, division, college, university, school district, intermediate school district, special district, or other public entity of this state, or of a city, village, township, or county in this state, but does not include a person whose employment results from election or appointment."

The attorney general letter dated March 23, 2009 concerned a City of Inkster council person who was also a full time employee as a court officer of the district court located in the City of Inkster. This letter pointed out that the law in question does not define the term "public official" but "has been construed to include both public officers and employees." In this case, the person involved was an employee and elected city council person and therefore the attorney general found that the Incompatible Public Office Act applied. The letter explained that the City of Inkster is the funding unit for the district court in its city, and a city council member is required to vote on the annual appropriation for the district court. The attorney general further stated that the city council member could not abstain from a vote on the budget since this would be considered a breach of duty. (Note: Whether abstaining from a vote would remedy the incompatibility and not be considered a breach of duty as declared by the Attorney General's letter appears to be an open question with the Michigan Supreme Court. In the case of Macomb County Prosecutor vs. Murphy, 464 Mich 149 (2001), the Supreme Court suggested that the harm of incompatibility could be avoided by an abstention. The Supreme Court majority raised this point after reviewing an attorney general opinion on the law in question:

"The attorney general explained: in many situations the public official may be able to perform the functions of two public offices without breaching a duty of either office by simply not performing a function which may constitute a breach of duty... where, however, incompatibility arises only when the performance of the duties of the two offices results in a breach of duty of a public office, there is not incompatibility until the two public entities actually enter into contractual negotiations with each other. Also, in such cases, the public officer or employee may avoid breaching his or her duty of loyalty by abstaining from participating in the consideration of the contract."

The dissenting Judge stated he did not believe the harm can be remedied by an abstention but pointed out this issue was not decided in this opinion because no vote took place and therefore it is dictum and not binding.)

The attorney general concluded in its letter that the positions of a city council member who is also a full time employee as court officer are not compatible and may not be held simultaneously due to:

1) The competing and conflicting interest regarding the amount of the city council's appropriation for court funding; 2) the city council's authority over the funding of this court officer's position; and 3) the significant impact of the city council's decisions on the operation of the district court."

There is a distinction between the analysis concerning the City of Inkster official with Mayor Joseph Peterson's status. With regards to the approval of an appropriation for the local district court, the responsibility under our City Charter is assigned to the City Council in Chapter VI, Section 10 (Paragraph 74);

"The council shall have control of the finances and of all property of the City, except as may be otherwise provided by this charter or by law."

The Mayor generally does not have a right to vote. The Charter does not require the Mayor to vote but states in Article VI, Section 2, (Paragraph 66) that the Mayor has a right to vote whenever there are three votes for or against a question before the council, regardless of the number of contrary votes.

A "right" is a privilege or power of free action. It is not an obligation and the decision to exercise the right is discretionary and not a duty. Therefore because the Charter requires the City Council to appropriate funds for the court and the Mayor is under no legal obligation to vote on such issue, there is no breach of duty that would apply in the scenario set forth in the attorney general letter.

The Incompatible Public Office applies to public employees and does not refer to an independent contractor situation. An independent contractor receives no employee benefits, is allowed to work for other business, and income tax withholding and social security are the responsibility of the independent contractor. The business is not responsible for unemployment claims in the independent contractor relationship. Upon reviewing the definition of "Public Employee" in the Incompatible Public Office Act, it is my opinion that the Incompatible Public Office Act would not apply to an independent contract situation. The Michigan Supreme Court has held that when considering the question of statutory construction, the Court first examines the language used in the statute to determine whether ambiguity exists.

"If the language is unambiguous, judicial construction is prohibited." Macomb County Prosecutor vs. Murphy, 464 Mich 149, 627 NW 2d 247 (2001).

The Michigan Supreme Court also held when analyzing the Incompatible Office Act that a "potential conflict" is not sufficient to find incompatibility and an "actual" breach of duty must be shown.

The Michigan Supreme Court in the Murphy case pointed out the following:

"The Court of Appeals, however, erroneously held that a breach of duty exists when "an issue arises in which one constituency's interests may conflict with the interest of a separate constituency represented by the official. In so concluding, the Court failed to recognize that the statute focuses on the manner in which the official actually performs the duties of public office. The Court thus disregarded the statutory language requiring an actual breach of duty."

The Michigan Supreme Court in footnote 13 of this decision explained the legislative intent of this law to focus on an actual breach of duty as opposed to a potential breach of duty as follows:

"This legislative choice encourages civic-minded individuals to engage in public service in as many capacities as they choose, without limiting their involvement through concerns about potential conflicts of interest. The legislature has focused on actual breaches, recognizing the value of enabling public employees to serve in public offices when they are off duty. The act is, in effect, a public employees enabling act."

There also exists a state law which applies to contracts of public servants with public entities (MCL 15.321 et seq.). "Public Servant" is defined as including all persons serving any public entity. "Public Entity" definition includes the state and all agencies thereof (including a city). This law states a public servant shall not be a party to or solicit a contract between himself and the public entity of which he is a public servant. An exception to this provision is for a public servant who is paid for working an average of 25 hours per week or less for a public entity. In such a circumstance, if the contract comes up for a vote before the public entity which the public servant serves, a disclosure must be filed with the governing body which is voting on the contract and a two-thirds vote without the vote of the public servant would be required. I have been advised that Mayor Peterson averages less than 25 hours per week at the Court.

In the case of Mayor Peterson, his independent contract is between the 27th District Court and Joseph Peterson and therefore is not required to come before the City Council. While the City is the funding control unit for the Court, the Court is responsible in handling personnel matters. It is my opinion that the independent contract with the District Court does not conflict with the aforementioned public servant law.

The Attorney General's Office has noted that the process for determining whether incompatibility exists requires a review of the particular facts on a case-by-case basis.

It is my conclusion that the Act does not pertain to Mayor Peterson because he is not a public employee as defined by the law and he is not required to vote on the District Court's appropriation.

Respectfully submitted,
 Department of Legal Affairs,
 LOOK, MAKOWSKI and LOOK, Professional Corporation, William R. Look
